

BURNING OF THE STEAMSHIP VOLTURNO IN MID-ATLANTIC BRINGS THE DEATH LIST TO 135

WIRELESS MAKES POSSIBLE THE RESCUE OF 521 PASSENGERS FROM ILL-FATED VESSEL

Rescue Ships Reach Scene of Disaster 'In Time to Save All But Storm Prevents Rescue for Many Hours--Two Boat Loads of Passengers Who Get Away in Boats from Burning Vessel Are Given Up as Lost--Explosion in Fore Part of Ship Starts Blaze.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Not since the Titanic sank has Europe been so thrilled as by a wireless message today telling of the burning of the steamship Voltorno in mid-Atlantic with a loss, so far as is at present known, of 135 lives and the rescue of 521. The survivors are now aboard a fleet of steamers summoned by the Voltorno's call for help, some of which are bound eastward and others westward. The Voltorno sailed from Rotterdam, Oct. 2, for New York, according to the official statement she carried 222 first cabin passengers, 538 steerage and a crew numbering 96.

The rescue ships reached the scene of the disaster in plenty of time to have all but for hours stood by the blazing vessel, impotent because of a storm to reach the agonized men, women and children crowding the after-part of the ship and within a stone's throw.

All night Thursday the life-boats made a desperate attempt to get along the Voltorno but the waves beat them back again and again and not until the storm abated at daylight Friday did the rescuers succeed in removing the survivors from the doomed ship. Even now only the fringe of one of the most thrilling tales of the sea is available. Exactly how the rescue was effected is not known. The Voltorno was well equipped with boats, sufficient, the agents say, for a thousand people, but the boisterous sea or lack of boat drill or panic among the passengers prevented the successful employment of them. The rescue ships were able to lower life boats but apparently most of the boats launched from the Voltorno were smashed or upset and the occupants drowned. Two of the boats crowded with passengers are reported to have got away from the ship but a search for them has proved fruitless and they have practically been given up as lost. The occupants of these boats are included in the death roll.

Carminia Arrives First.
The steamer Carminia bound from New York for Liverpool was 78 miles away when the call for help sounded. Captain Barr ordering full steam in spite of the gale drove through the seas at twenty knots an hour and was first of the fleet to reach the burning vessel. She was followed by LaTouraine, Minneapolis, Rappahannock, Czar, Narragansett, Devonian, Kronland, Grosser Kurfuerst and Seydlitz at various hours throughout the day. But try as they might, the rescuing vessels could get neither line nor life boat to the Voltorno, the forward part of which was almost hidden by a dense cloud of smoke when the Carminia arrived. The burning steamer lay in the trough of the sea, pounding helplessly with her propellers fouled by the boat's tackle. The terrified passengers were huddled together as far as it was possible to get from the flames, while throughout the day the officers and crew fought desperately with whatever appliances were at hand to hold the fire in check.

But night came on and the seas abated only slightly.

Great Explosion Occurs.
The circle of searchers kept their searchlights playing and waited patiently within the danger zone for the first moment when they might again launch the life boats. The hopelessness of the situation was manifested at 9 o'clock in the evening when a great explosion tore away a part of the upper works and flames burst from the engine-room. It then became a matter of how long the Voltorno would stay above the waters. Meanwhile, several of the terrified passengers were wrapped in life buoys, dropped over into the sea. One of them was taken aboard the Carminia. It may be that others found a haven with other vessels of the fleet, but some undoubtedly were swept away.

Gale Moderates.
When day broke the Voltorno was still afloat. The gale had moderated and the seas had calmed down. From almost every one of the encircling steamers life boats were sent out and in these women and children were lowered first. Several trips were necessary before the survivors were removed to a place of safety.

Painting Causes Panic.
It is pointed out as a remarkable coincidence that the Voltorno about four years ago made a notable rescue in a gale off the mid-Atlantic coast of a French vessel. Captain Harrison, who then commanded the Voltorno, was decorated by the French government for his daring act.

Captain's Wireless Report.
Bremen, Oct. 11.—The full text of the wireless report of the captain of the Grosser Kurfuerst on the Voltorno disaster was as follows:

"We received the appeals for help from the Voltorno on Thursday at 4 o'clock in the afternoon while we were in latitude 43.50 north, longitude 35.00 west. When we arrived near the Voltorno we found her completely on fire. The fire apparently had arisen from a violent explosion in the forward part of the vessel and this explosion had killed a number of passengers and sailors."

"Eleven steamers gathered in the neighborhood of the disaster which took place during a violent storm blowing from the northwest with the sea breaking high.

"Two of the boats of the Grosser Kurfuerst were lowered and kept at work during the whole night from 9 o'clock in the evening till a quarter past three in the morning. It was almost impossible for them to approach the wreck and the rescue of

SPENCER'S ASSERTION OF WIGHT MURDER CONFIRMED

Prisoner is Taken to House Where Mrs. Annabel Wight Was Killed and Gives Description of Dwelling.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—Confirmation of Spencer's assertion that it was he who murdered Mrs. Annabel Wight was given to the satisfaction of the detectives when Spencer was taken to the house where the woman was fatally beaten with a hammer. Before entering Spencer was required to describe the interior. This he did accurately and then guided the detectives about the premises.

The murderer was then taken back to the detective bureau and locked up. The investigation will be resumed Monday. Captain Halpin expressed his conviction that Spencer killed Mrs. Wight and declared that "all essential facts concerning the Jackson park murder fits his confession."

The trap was set by Webb.

While two men watched from beneath a couch, it is charged, Peters paid the money to a representative of Webb. When the transaction was completed the witnesses crawled from their places and the saloon owner was arrested.

Republican Leader of the House Refuses to Agree to Three Day Adjournment.

Washington, Oct. 11.—Representative Mann, Republican leader of the house, tonight upset the plans of Democratic members to secure a three day adjournment from legislative duties. When the urgent deficiency appropriation bill had been agreed to, Democratic Leader Underwood tried to get an agreement with the Republican side for three day adjournments, with the understanding that no business would be done for some time.

"I am perfectly willing to agree to adjourn congress until December," said Mr. Mann, "but so long as congress remains in session I intend to stay and make it just as uncomfortable for the Democrats as possible."

CRISIS IN MEXICO CITY

Invasion of Legislative Halls by Huerta's Armed Troops Is Expected to Bring a Crisis in Affairs at Mexican Capital

UNCLE SAM PREPARES FOR EMERGENCY

BULLETIN.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 11.—President Huerta's defense of his action in causing the arrest of 110 members of the chamber of deputies last night is that the deputies were revolutionists. It is his belief as the Carranza contingent in the capital. In a proclamation dissolving the chamber, it is frankly stated that their threat to remove themselves from the capital to hold sessions where they would enjoy the protection which they alleged was denied them here, mean that they would transfer their sessions to territory controlled by rebels.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Although latest advices the state department declared the deputies arrested by the order of Provisional President Huerta had been released from prison, the dissolution of the Mexican congress and the invasion of the legislative halls by armed troops caused the Washington government practically to lose all hope of seeing a constitutional election held on October 26th, or the pacification of the country brought through the authorities in power at present in Mexico City.

CONFERENCE MAY BE ARRANGED BETWEEN GOV. DUNNE AND WEST

Conference Regarding Minority Patronage Is One of the Results of the Three Day Political Rally.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11.—A conference, if ordered, is to be held in the near future between Governor Dunne and Roy O. West, chairman of the Republican state committee regarding minority patronage. This is one of the results of three days' political rally in Springfield which ended Friday with a round-up of Republicans. When asked if he would grant Chairman West a hearing, Governor Dunne declared that not only would he be glad to do so, but that he would grant hearings to all factions in both the Republicans and Progressive parties before making the appointments. Some time ago the Sherman faction of the Republican party submitted a "slate" of candidates for the sixteen minority places. Another "slate" has been prepared by the Deeneen-West faction. Senator Sherman and former Governor Deeneen held a long conference last Friday morning and there is an apparently reliable report that an agreement was reached regarding the places which will go to the Republicans. The Progressives, by reason of the vote cast for Roosevelt in the last election, claim to be the minority party and entitled to representation on the state boards and committees.

KING AND QUEEN NARROWLY ESCAPE MOB OF SUFFRAGETTES

Women Make Dash For Royal Carriage at Theatre—Are Roughly Treated by the Crowd.

London, Oct. 11.—King George and Queen Mary, who attended a command performance at a London music hall tonight, had a narrow escape from being mobbed by suffragettes. The women, who had gathered in considerable numbers, made a lively dash for the royal carriage on its arrival at the theatre, shouting "Women are being tortured in prison!"

They had almost reached the carriage when the police closed around and with defiant shouts of "votes for women" were hurled back.

The suffragettes were treated roughly by the crowd but managed to escape arrest.

CRISIS IN MEXICO CITY

Invasion of Legislative Halls by Huerta's Armed Troops Is Expected to Bring a Crisis in Affairs at Mexican Capital

UNCLE SAM PREPARES FOR EMERGENCY

BULLETIN.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 11.—President Huerta's defense of his action in causing the arrest of 110 members of the chamber of deputies last night is that the deputies were revolutionists. It is his belief as the Carranza contingent in the capital. In a proclamation dissolving the chamber, it is frankly stated that their threat to remove themselves from the capital to hold sessions where they would enjoy the protection which they alleged was denied them here, mean that they would transfer their sessions to territory controlled by rebels.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Although latest advices the state department declared the deputies arrested by the order of Provisional President Huerta had been released from prison, the dissolution of the Mexican congress and the invasion of the legislative halls by armed troops caused the Washington government practically to lose all hope of seeing a constitutional election held on October 26th, or the pacification of the country brought through the authorities in power at present in Mexico City.

A crisis is expected in the Mexican capital. Administration officials pointed to President Wilson's reference in his address to congress last August that the true state of affairs in Mexico would soon be revealed. Evidence that the federal troops are disgruntled and on the verge of mutiny because they have not been paid and comparatively easy successes of the constitutionalists in capturing such important places as Torreon in north central Mexico were significantly referred to by Washington officials as revelations of the real situation. The establishment of virtual dictatorship by Huerta through the use of military force is interpreted as likely to have the most far reaching consequences to the Huerta regime. It also was held as a vindication of the attitude of the Washington administration that military assumption of power should not be recognized and there is hope now among high officials that foreign governments which hitherto had recognized the Huerta regime would withdraw their support.

There was no official pronouncement of policy today but the American government is quietly preparing for an emergency that might arise. Its advices show the improbability of an election on October 26th, not only because of the success of the constitutionalist arms but numerous illegals in connection with the preliminary arrangements for an election. The dissolution of congress by force is plainly looked upon here as an unconstitutional act.

At the cabinet meeting next Tuesday a full discussion of the situation is expected though acting Secretary of State John Bassett Moore, briefly talked over the dispatches with President Wilson today.

There is a possibility that developments in Mexico may bring about some changes in the detail of American battleships in Mexican waters. Senator Huerta's pointed declaration recently in his message to congress that the six months period allowed American war vessels in Mexican waters would expire October 26, and would not be renewed caused the navy department at that time to order the Rhode Island, New Jersey and Virginia to Vera Cruz, to relieve the Louisiana, South Carolina, New Hampshire and Michigan. It was in accordance with right under ordinary conditions of the Mexican authorities to limit the time that foreign vessels might remain in their ports. Today it was stated at the navy department that the four ships would sail from Hampton Roads on October 27, for Vera Cruz.

The American government probably will follow the letter of Huerta's declaration, however, changing the case every thirty days as provided by international law. Should unexpected developments occur and American lives be endangered all vessels may be retained by the United States.

HORSEMAN RESISTS ARREST AND IS KILLED BY STATE FAIR POLICEMAN

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11.—Francis McClellan, a Beloit, Wis., horseman who has been working at the Illinois State Fair in this city, was shot and almost instantly killed at the fair grounds here today by Tot Cannon, of the East St. Louis police force, when he resisted arrest. Cannon, who for the past few years has served on the state fair police force, is held by the authorities of the city pending the action of a coronor's jury. At the county jail tonight the prisoner suffered a nervous breakdown. It is claimed by witnesses that McClellan was only a few feet from Cannon when the latter fired because the former would not stop when so ordered.

Much feeling has been shown over the shooting.

ATHLETICS A HAPPY BUNCH OF PLAYERS

GIVEN GREAT DEMONSTRATION AS THEY LEAVE FOR PHILADELPHIA

Mackmen Are Cheered Both Individually and as a Team—Champions of the World Are Generous in Their Praise of the Giants and Their Sportsmanship.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Connie Mack's Athletics were a happy lot of ball players as they left for Philadelphia tonight after having been given a demonstrative send off by a big crowd of enthusiasts at the station.

Many of the team members were hoisted to the shoulders of admirers and carried to the gate leading to their train, while the joyous fans of Philadelphia shouted themselves hoarse and raised a big uproar with a wealth of noise making equipment.

This celebration followed another almost equally noisy when the champions reached their hotel from the Polo grounds. Several hundred enthusiasts almost mobbed the players as they alighted from their automobiles. They were pounded on the back by such fans as could reach them on the way into the hotel and they were cheered both individually and as a team.

All the Mackmen were generous in their praise of the Giants. Captain "Danny" Murphy voiced the general sentiment:

"The Giants played clean ball and were the best of opponents," he said and Frank Baker added:

"We've done it again and I hope we repeat next year, but we could not find more sportsmanlike opponents than the Giants."

Honors Town Celebrates.
East Brookfield, Mass., Oct. 11.—The Brookfields, the birthplace of Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, champions of the world, celebrated today's victory by Philadelphia with red fire, parades and bell ringing. Headed by a drum corps, a crowd of men and boys marched over muddy roads from Brookfield to the house where Mack was born.

No members of the family were there, but the present tenants of the house had anticipated the coming of the celebrators and had red fire burning on the lawn. All street rail cars running between the two towns burned red lights. Church bells were rung and a big bon fire was lighted.

Given Great Reception.
Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—A great throng of Athletic supporters gave the triumphant Mackmen a rousing reception upon their arrival from New York tonight. Members of the team were heartily applauded as they passed through a lane of policemen waiting automobiles. There were many calls or speeches but there were no responses.

Jack Coombs, Athletic pitcher and hero of two world's contests, who has been prevented from participating all season, through an injury was jubilant tonight over the victory of his teammates. He received details of all games as he lay on a cot at the University Hospital where physicians have had a serious doubt for several weeks as to complete recovery. Today physicians announced that Coombs' recovery would be complete.

ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY SENATE REJECTS MICHIGAN PROPOSAL

Proposal That All Conference Legislation Should be by Unanimous Vote is Turned Down.

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 11.—The University of Illinois senate today rejected the proposal of the board of regents of the University of Michigan suggesting a return of Michigan to the conference provided that all conference legislation should be by unanimous vote. The Michigan resolutions were sent to the Illinois trustees who referred them to the faculty. The senate issued a statement, saying in part:

"Michigan's suggestion would make it possible for one institution to dictate to the entire conference. The resolutions would allow any of the abuses prevalent before the 'Big Nine' was organized."

FLAMES IN SPRINGFIELD BUSINESS DISTRICT ENTAIL LOSS OF $500,000

FIRE DESTROYS THE S. MENDENHALL BUILDING AND QUICKLY SPREADS TO OTHERS

Loss to Johnson-Hatcher Co., Is Over $100,000 In Stock--Fire Spreads Rapidly and Destroys the J. A. Jones Building and Guts the M. J. Bartel Edifice Adjoining--Bressmer Company's Stock Greatly Damaged.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 12.—Fire shortly after mid-night destroyed the S. Mendenhall Building at the corner of Seventh and Adams streets, in the heart of the downtown district. It spread to adjoining buildings and entailed a loss of half a million dollars. The loss to the Johnson-Hatcher company occupying the Mendenhall Building is over $100,000 on stock, and the loss to the building is $50,000. The flames could not be controlled by the firemen. They leaped through the windows of the five stories all at once and the firemen had to devote their energies to saving the buildings across the streets.

When the walls of the Mendenhall building fell with a thunderous noise, the great crowd which had gathered surged back and several persons were slightly injured. Several firemen were slightly hurt, but there were no fatalities reported. The fire destroyed the James A. Jones building adjoining the Johnson-Hatcher store on the west and gutted the M. J. Bartel building, next to the Jones building.

The smoke and fire also did great damage to the John Bressmer company's stock.

Waves of sparks and flame shot across the streets on the east threatening the buildings on the north side of Adams street and the east side of Seventh street.

At one o'clock it looked like the business district was in danger, but later the fire was under control.

Fire Subsidies Quickly.
Early this morning the fire subsided almost as quickly as it had spread. Robert E. Hatcher of the Johnson-Hatcher company said their losses would total $150,000 on the stock with insurance of $100,000.

The Buildings Burned.
The following are the buildings burned and their occupants:
Four story brick building, at 628-30 East Adams street, owned by Mrs. S. Mendenhall and occupied by the Johnson-Hatcher company, loss $40,000 and insured for $34,000.
Four story building at 626 East Adams street, owned by James T. Jones, occupied on first floor by O. B. Caldwell as wall paper store and on other floors by the Johnson-Hatcher company, loss on building $15,000, insurance $10,000.
Four story brick building at 624 East Adams street owned by Meyers Brothers and occupied on first floor by the Menter company, clothiers; other floors occupied by Johnson-Hatcher company; loss on building $15,000; insurance $7,500.
Four story brick building, 622 East Adams street, owned by M. J. Bartel, first floor vacant, other floors occupied by The Hotel Elmer; loss on building $15,000.
Two story brick building owned by the John Bressmer company, occupied on first floor by W. M. Ackerman, shoe store; loss on building, $5,000.
Six story building occupied by the Bressmer company damaged by heat to the extent of $1,000.

The Losses on Stock.
The losses on stock are estimated as follows:
Johnson-Hatcher & Co. $150,000
O. B. Caldwell $5,000
Menter company $3,000
Hotel Elmer $2,000
Ackerman Shoe Store $4,000
Bressmer company $2,000
These estimates are roughly made but conservatively so. Many who have studied the losses say the total on buildings and stocks will reach over $300,000.

WOULD ENCOUNTER SERIOUS OBSTACLES

Rocky Road is Ahead of Miss Emeline Pankhurst Should She Adopt an Alias to Enter This Country.

Washington, Oct. 11.—If Miss Emeline Pankhurst, leader of the British militant suffragists, who is en route to this country, should attempt to land under an assumed name, she would encounter serious obstacles. Today the report reached the bureau of immigration that Mrs. Pankhurst might adopt an alias in order to enter the United States. Inquiries concerning the report became so persistent that Commissioner General Caminetti issued a statement in which he said:

"We have no authentic information on the subject, and without reference to Mrs. Pankhurst, will further state that this bureau and the department deal with people who seek admission to our ports in a frank and open manner and without opposition and prefer like treatment from those who like to enter. We are confronted with much perjury and deception in efforts to gain admission into the United States. Generally speaking, and not too rank our officers are expected to overlook some instances. I am not saying what may happen when it is felt that matters before the bureau in everyday life good faith has its benefits and never fails to command respect and due consideration."

EXPERTS DISCUSS MEAT SHORTAGE

BULLETIN ISSUED TELLS WAY TO INCREASE THE SUPPLY.

Prevention of Waste, Use of More Economical Methods and Increase of Production Through Better Breeding Methods Are Asserted to Be the Way to Increase the Meat Supply.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Shortage of meat in United States and the way to increase the supply are discussed by experts in the department of agriculture in a special bulletin issued today to the farmers of the country.

From the division of animal husbandry comes the declaration that the output of meat on the average farm can be increased by the prevention of waste, use of more economical methods and increase of production through better breeding methods. He asserts that the nation's meat supply can be increased by revival of beef cattle raising in the corn belt and its extension in the eastern states the use of dual purpose cows on dairy farms, saving the calves for feeders; raising sheep more extensively in the corn belt and eastern states, increasing hog production on the irrigated farms of the west; increasing production of beef cattle and hogs in the south, the only section of the United States where cattle can still be raised, fed and sold at a profit of from 5 to 6 cents per pound.

OBITUARY.

Fulton Whitlock was born in Russell county Kentucky, August 11, 1828. He came to Illinois in the fall of 1829, and always lived in Greene county until he removed to Madison, Missouri, in April 1909.

He died Oct. 7, 1913 at Madison, Missouri, age 85 years, 1 month, and 26 days. He was married to Amelia Ruyie, January 28, 1851. To their union seven children were born, two of whom died in infancy. He is survived by four children, Wilson of Murrayville, C. N. of Jacksonville, Lucy Whitlock and Louisa J. Atterbury of Madison, Mo.

"Uncle Pat" as he was generally known, has been in feeble health for several years, but in spite of his age and feeble health he was cheerful and optimistic to the end. His hearty good humor and his ability to look always on the bright side of life made for him a host of friends. Funeral services were conducted at the Baptist church in Athensville Friday morning Oct. 10, by Rev. V. P. Mitchell of Jacksonville. Interment was made in the Rhodes cemetery.

Another range of Persian velvet four-in-hand neckwear will be shown this week by FRANK BYRNS' Hat Store.

SUMMONED TO KENTUCKY. Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Benson of South Mainville street left Saturday evening for Grant, Ky., in response to a telegram announcing the death of Mrs. Benson's sister, Miss Annie Golph.

John T. Alexander Reviews Market Situation in Address Before Students at Iowa Agricultural College at Ames, Iowa—Next Summer Will Show Scarcity of Long Fed Cattle.

In a recent address before students at the Iowa agricultural college at Ames, Ia., John T. Alexander, a recognized authority on cattle and market conditions, had the following to say:

Beef To Be Scarce. I fully appreciate the honor of being invited here by your honorable faculty, but I am not a public speaker, as my early education was sadly neglected, and I have to confine myself strictly to notes to express what I have to say to you. Professor Ferrin thought you would be interested in market conditions, also that I might say something to you regarding short and long fed cattle.

Much has been said and written about the beef scarcity during the past few months, but during the first eight months of this year that commodity has been reasonably plentiful. The supply of corn fed cattle during the spring and summer months was much heavier than generally expected. Beef cattle sold so extremely high last year and corn was so much lower last fall and early winter than the year previous, it caused cattle feeders generally to feed everything available, anticipating extremely high prices again this year. But from now on the scarcity of beef cattle will become more apparent. Range cattle are showing a marked decrease this year, also native butcher stock, canners, cutters and bulls. While the river markets have had heavy receipts of stockers and feeders lately, due to the drought, other markets have had a lighter supply, and the country generally is away short on stockers and feeders. High prices now in comparison to and they are selling at exceedingly high prices, and the price of corn and other feeds, but the great shortage is on account of the high prices.

The best demand during the past eight or nine months has been for baby beef, (choice yearlings) and they have been most profitable to the feeder. Also the short fed cattle generally have shown a profit. While our long fed cattle, especially the heavy cattle, up to the present time do not show much if any profit, of course there may be exceptions where feeders' hogs have been strictly healthy and made big gains, and where they have been fortunate enough to market them at the high time, we are of the opinion that from now on the long fed cattle will gradually get scarce and sell higher. The supply of that kind was too liberal for the demand during the summer months. They can use about so many of that kind each week or each month to supply the high class trade in our large cities, and when the supply runs light for any reasonable length of time they sell high and at a big premium over the hand weight cattle.

Most Money on Short Feed. I look for a great scarcity of heavy or long fed cattle next spring and summer on account of the scarcity of cattle and the high price of corn and feeds generally over the country and look for them to sell at a big premium over light cattle, and I think all kinds of beef cattle will sell very high.

It is my opinion that the greatest number of cattle feeders make more money on short feeds than they do on long feeds, and for years past cattle men who have wintered their cattle on blue grass, stall fields and clover hay, at have given them a short feed of corn during the summer months have been the ones who have made the most money. Land has advanced so rapidly in the corn belt the last few years, and corn has been selling so exceedingly high, with the shortage of stockers and feeders and at the high prices they have been commanding, it has put the cattle feeder to guessing whether it would pay him to continue in the cattle business, but I look upon the silo as his salvation. With the silo you can winter your cattle very cheap, put them on grass and corn and have them fat in ninety days, or you can feed corn with your silage, mixed with cotton seed or cotton cake, and have them good and fat on six months' feed, and your cost of grains will be much cheaper than if you fed them on corn and used hay for roughage. Just here I would like to impress upon your minds the great and beneficial work that our experimental stations are doing at our agricultural colleges all over the middle west.

Blessed is the farmer! I consider it one of God's greatest blessings to be a tiller of the soil, to see the crops grow and mature, to live in the sunshine and drink in the pure air, and to commune with nature.

Everything New That's Good

James McGinnis & Co.

THE JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL
Established 1843
Published by
JACKSONVILLE JOURNAL CO.

During the month of September, 1913, there were, according to the records of the Jacksonville police department five arrests for drunkenness. During the same month in 1906, the last year during which Jacksonville had saloons the number of arrests for drunkenness was 49.

Last month the total number of arrests in Jacksonville was thirty and in September, 1906, the arrests made were 119. So much for the argument that there is more drunkenness in Jacksonville under local option than with the saloon system.

Many of the advocates of saloons will tell you that the wholesale liquor men favor local option because they can sell more liquor by mail or express and get the cash than they could under the saloon system. They will allege, too, that the big dealers favor local option, because their business grows and flourishes, with no rents or license money to pay and that the net profits are thus far greater. These same saloon advocates will tell you just how many regular customers there are in Jacksonville, who send their money away each week for liquor. Nevertheless the big liquor interests, despite the claims that more booze is consumed under local option than with open saloons are found each year maintaining the strongest lobby they can get in Springfield, systematically fighting every measure that the local option advocates favor. The situation has grown so tense in Springfield during the last few years that the fight between the liquor and anti-liquor interests underlies almost all of the important contests in the state general assembly.

The fight for the return of saloons in Jacksonville is being waged under the leadership of the Jacksonville Protective association, an organization of citizens who believe that a city with saloons is better off than a city without saloons. This association has employed Rev. W. A. Gardner to manage their campaign, at least the publicity end of the campaign. Rev. Mr. Gardner lives in Kansas City, Mo., and devotes a part of his time to chautauqua and other platform speaking. He says that he has views differing from most members of the ministry on the liquor question, that he is not fighting for the liquor business, but for its regulation.

One of the main campaign documents of the Protective association is a model ordinance for saloon regulation, which the association has pledged itself to support if the city will return to the saloon system. This ordinance is strict in its provisions and has some features in it which have not been a part of liquor ordinances on the statute books of Jacksonville or other cities of like size and surrounding. Most of the points, however, as related to screens, to the hours of closing, to selling to minors, etc., have been included in the average saloon ordinance, but in how many cities have these regulations been enforced? How many saloon keepers have obeyed these rules and regulations?

The fact that the average saloon is lawless and is conducted in open violation of law and without regard to the wishes or feelings of the community has had much to do with the growth of the local option cause. No doubt the liquor interests have come to recognize this fact as more and more saloons have been put out of business. But there is no special reason for thinking that if saloons were again permitted in Jacksonville that there would be any marked or continued improvement in the methods of operating them. The trouble with the saloon business in the past has not been a lack of laws to regulate it, but the lack of a desire to observe these regulations and a lack of desire or the inability to enforce them.

The record of the liquor business fails to show that regulation brings good results.

No doubt some men connected with the Protective association are sincere in their belief that the saloon business can be managed and regulated along law abiding lines, but the trouble with their proposition is that if the saloons were returned to Jacksonville that these men would have nothing to do with saloon regulation and control, unless they engaged in the business themselves. Only a part of them would do that.

The Jacksonville school board is advertising for bids for the construction of the proposed eighth grade building. Bids will be received for the completed building, which it is estimated will not cost to exceed $75,000 and for an enclosed building or one partially finished. The people generally will approve the idea of going ahead and erecting an eighth grade building in so much as the project has been underway for some years and $54,000 of the money needed for the building is on hand.

While the board is asking for bids for a completed building it is certain that such a contract cannot be awarded, for the board does not have the authority to award such a contract without having the money on hand or provided for by a tax levy to pay for the improvement. The public will not approve the awarding of a contract for a building unless it is definitely assured that the building can be completed in accordance with the finished plans and at a cost not greater than $75,000. It will not be good business policy for the board to start to erect a building, enclose it, and then so change it, or have some other board change it, that the cost exceeds the total cost as now planned.

They used to sneer at book farming and laugh at the idea that crops could be raised except in the good old way, but Ferner Kremer, of Joliet, Ill., a 19-year-old boy has shown the people of Will county a thing or two concerning book farming. He took a course in scientific agriculture in the University of Illinois. Then he came home, and leased his father's farm and went to work. He increased the earnings of the farm 40 per cent, made $40,000 for himself, and has just purchased a 160-acre farm from his share of the profits. His father's farm is now the best piece of property in Will county, all because the boy applied modern methods to it.

Republican and Progressive members of the last Illinois general assembly held a conference in Springfield Friday night. There were nine men present at this conference and while it cannot be said that the gathering accomplished anything yet there should be good results in its wake. There are sound reasons why the Republicans and the Progressives of this state should work in union. Divided they can accomplish little or nothing. United they can conduct the affairs of Illinois along the lines which are desired and can bring to pass any desired reforms. Republicans and Progressives do not differ essentially in principles. In the most important things they stand upon the same broad platform.

While abuses may have grown up within the Republican party during its long term of ascendancy, the Progressive movement in calling attention to such abuses has accomplished the greatest good that it can do. The fact that Republican leaders and Progressive leaders are willing to talk over their points of difference and to try to "get together" indicates that both wings of the old party recognize now that the heat of the last campaign has entirely disappeared, that the success of both parties is interdependent. The Republicans need the Progressives and vice versa and there seems to be no good reason why they cannot agree upon a common plan of action, a plan which will mean party success and result in betterment for the country at large.

When President Wilson touched the key that exploded the Gamboa dike at the Panama canal, he marked the beginning of the end in the accomplishment of the greatest engineering feat of modern times. Its completion and accomplishment will form a lasting monument to the energy, skill and foresight of the American people and will be the realization of the dream of a hundred years.

The canal will be fifty miles long from deep water to deep water and about forty-one miles from shore to shore. It varies in width of channel from 300 to 1,000 feet. Its minimum depth is 41 feet. Ordinary vessels will pass through it within from nine and a half to ten hours, and the largest vessels within from ten and a half to eleven hours. It shortens the water distance between New York and San Francisco 8,100 miles and the distance between New York and Hawaii 5,800 miles.

FOREWORD
A beautiful story has been played by a company of the best actors that have ever been gathered together in an American picture-play. The costumes, the settings and accessories as well as the out-door scenes, represent the very best that careful preparation, lavish outlay of money and artistic taste could provide.

The quarry with the thrilling accident and the tremendous dynamite blasting of rock, the ball room scenes with "Tango" dancing by professional cabaret dancers, and the picturesque country scenes have never been equalled in any motion picture. The photography is perfect in every scene, being absolutely steady and free from any blemish.

INITIAL MEETING
OF WOMAN'S CLUBSPLendid LIST OF TOASTS GIV-EN AT LUNCHEON.

Question of Woman Suffrage an Important Subject Discussed by Members—Mrs. M. H. Havenhill Toast-mistress—Resolutions Adopted for Mrs. W. A. Furr.

The annual luncheon of the Woman's club was served yesterday at the Christian church and proved one of the most enjoyable and profitable meetings in the history of the club. The luncheon was served by a committee of ladies from the church consisting of Mrs. E. B. Pratt, chairman; Mrs. Harry Cobb and Miss Frances Hulet, and the following menu was faultlessly served by young ladies of the church:

Bouillon
Salted Wafers Crackers
Creamed Chicken in Timbales
Peas Tomato Aspic
Waldorf Salad
Pumpkin Pie Coffee

The arrangements for the luncheon were in the hands of the program committee of which Mrs. Levi Doane is chairman with Mrs. C. H.
Rammekamp, Miss Frances Wood and Dr. Grace Dewey as assistants and a committee from the Domestic Science Round Table, including Miss Clara Cobb, chairman; Mrs. Ben Lur-ton, Mrs. George Lewis, Mrs. Chas.
Hopper, Mrs. Geo. Tremblott and Mrs. J. K. C. Pierson.

Over a hundred women were seafed at the tables which were beautifully decorated with autumn foliage and flowers and were presided over by the following hostesses: Mrs.
Elizabeth Stebbins, Mrs. Ben Lur-ton, Mrs. Miller Weir, Mrs. I. C.
Coleman, Mrs. George Tremblott,
Mrs. Thomas Heaton, Mrs. Charles
Hopper, Mrs. Levi Doane, Mrs. J. T.
Sharpe, Mrs. George Lewis, Miss Clara Cobb.

If this first meeting of the Woman's club for the year is an augury of what is to follow, the members certainly have cause for self-congrat-ulation. Everything conspired to make the luncheon a complete success, the one drawback to full enjoyment being the enforced absence of Mrs. Furr, who was detained at home by her daughter's illness. Mrs.
Furr was to have been toastmistress and guest of honor and her inability to be present was a great disappointment. She is president of the club.
Mrs. M. H. Havenhill presided in the place of Mrs. Furr.

Miss Ruby Neville.
The first speaker was Miss Ruby Neville, who responded to the toast,
"The New Duty and Opportunity of Club Women." Miss Neville has long been an enthusiastic suffragist and was well chosen to handle this subject. She dwelt in particular upon just what the gaining of the ballot means to woman—social obligation and social opportunity. It is not knowing how to vote so that our ballot shall not be thrown out that concerns us but how we shall vote, for whom and for what. Women are bound to one another and to the cause of human brotherhood.
They must hold to the necessity for individual opinion of strong free personal opinion.

Miss Anne Jackson.
Miss Anne Jackson responded to the toast, "Preparation for Our New Responsibilities." She said in part:
"We owe it to the women who have worked so hard for the ballot, if we make good, to do our share. If we regard the ballot as a mere toy rather than a sacred trust, we are deserters and parasites. Conditions today demand that we shall take nothing on faith but test and prove things for ourselves. Women value humanity more than they value property and it is our duty to teach this value to the world."

Mrs. A. L. Adams.
"What Women Can do for Education in Jacksonville" was most attractively depicted by Mrs. A. L.
Adams.
It is strange that a woman should be blamed for looking after the education of her own children. Jacksonville women have a wonderful example to follow. The Ladies' Education society, founded in 1833, advocated the education of women.

Shall the daughters and granddaughters of these women sit with folded hands and permit the school system of their city to lag behind in educational methods? If other cities have better schools it is because their people demand them. True loyalty to Jacksonville demands an interest in public schools not only from the parents of the children actually attending school but from every citizen—and "citizen" has become a broader term in Illinois since June 11.

Mrs. Adams proceeded to tell of the disadvantages of our present special charter and advocated the advisability of adopting the general school law, pointing out the advantages that would follow.

Mrs. W. S. Badger.
Mrs. W. S. Badger responded to the toast "What the Suffrage Should Mean for Civic Development in Jacksonville."

Mrs. Badger first presented the subject of the coming election when the web-dry issue will once more be placed before the voters of Jacksonville. How can a woman of the Twentieth century hesitate to do so simple a thing as to go a few blocks to a store room, and put a piece of paper in a box at the same time giving her name and address to a clerk. The promised land of civic righteousness lies before us.
Caleb and Joshua have brought back a favorable report. Shall we go up and possess it in spite of the giants or shall we return back and wander 40 years in the wilderness? Among the giants to be overcome are the alcohol, opium, pigs, selling, cheap and cigarettes to minors, gambling, lack of water and lights etc. Many such problems confront us. Let us arouse our citizens to their civic duties and responsibilities and bring in a new era of civil righteousness.

Resolutions Adopted.
Mrs. John N. Ward, former president of the club and chairman of the committee appointed to prepare resolutions relative to the resignation of Mrs. W. A. Furr, presented one following with a few words prepared by Mrs. Ward:

"The Woman's club has never gone on record as advocating divorce, but when a mere man, even though he be the best man in the world, dares enter her sacred precincts and without even by your leave takes away soddy the president of the club, thereby causing panic in its august executive board, surely something ought to be done. We were in doubt whether we should read the riot act, impanel a jury and try the case and sue for damages. After a heated discussion wiser counsel prevailed. The culprit having solemnly promised that his wife should return to Jacksonville for this first luncheon, and being assured that the Woman's club has ever in reserve a supply of presidential timber, a compromise was effected and a committee appointed on resolutions.

"By the removal of Mrs. Furr, from the city Jacksonville Woman's club has lost one of its most useful and devoted members. As a member, an officer and president of the club she has discharged every duty most faithfully and accurately. Her fine executive ability and wise leadership made her a most admirable president, while her gracious manner and charming personality won the admiration and the love of the members."

"I was with deep regret that the executive board accepted her resignation. With her going the Woman's club loses its first and only mascot, little Mary Elizabeth."

"Not only in the Woman's club but in the social, literary, philanthropic and religious circles of the city she will be greatly missed. Jacksonville will be a very great loss to Cardinale. The love and best wishes of the club will follow her to her new home and the club will ever be most happy to welcome her return."

FIVE GREAT MEETINGS LAST DAY OF REVIVAL

SERVICES BEGIN WITH SUNRISE
DEVOTION AT 6:30.

"Is It Nothing to You" at the Tent
This Evening at 7:00—Dr. Rees
Gives Strong Address Saturday
Evening on "The Man Who Wins."

A full program of five services has been arranged for today, the last of the four weeks union revival series. At 6:30 this morning a number will congregate at the tent for prayer service at the sunrise. At 7:30 p. m. Dr. Rees will address the women of the city on "Starting Revelations in Jacksonville," going thence at once to the tent to repeat the address to the last great mass meeting for men. This meeting will begin at 3 o'clock, the same time as the mass meeting for children in the Baptist church. "Is It Nothing to You" a powerful address at the evening service which no one can afford to miss will complete the program of the day. Dr. and Mrs. Rees will leave for the east on 1:36 a. m. Wabasha. They will spend two days at their home in Rochester, N. Y., before beginning their next meeting at Philadelphia, Pa.

Saturday evening Dr. Rees gave to an audience of good size an address which many remarked was one of the strongest of the entire meeting. Basing his remarks on the story of Zaccheus in the Gospel of Luke, the evangelist showed how each christian may overcome his foes in spite of limitations and come forth from the struggle "more than a conqueror."

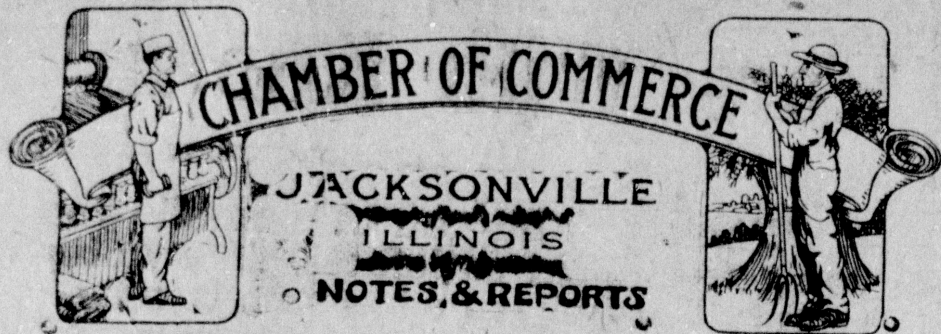

"And behold there was a man named Zaccheus, which was the chief among the publicans, and he was rich." Prominent people come to Christ. This name would indicate he was a Jew, chief among the publicans, or as some would say farmer of the customs. Other publicans were officers under him and not only was Zaccheus a man of authority but he was rich, so was also Joseph of Arimathea, Nicodemus of Jerusalem, Saul of Tarsus, Sir Isaac Newton, the father of modern philosophy, Columbus, possessing a new world in the name of the cross, Cromwell establishing the liberty of the Britains for all time, Wellington conquering the great Napoleon, and Napoleon confessing that Jesus Christ was greatest conqueror, Washington throwing off the yoke of tyranny and giving birth to a great republic on this western hemisphere, Patrick Henry, a lover of freedom. Nearly all the signers of the Declaration of Independence and the framers of the constitution, Franklin, statesman, philosopher, and great leader, and the immortal Lincoln and so on until even the recital of their names would weary you. Who are those over whose dust like a great mausoleum rises Westminster Abbey in London and whose resting place is marked by the Pantheon in Rome. And greatly glorified because they came to the great Saviour and honored Him as their King. The best people on whom the sun has ever shone are those who have joined the company of the followers of Jesus Christ.

"And he sought to see Jesus who he was, and could not for the press, because he was little of stature." The press to see Jesus continues, year and increases with each succeeding year and not only in the land where we live but in all lands they are stretching forth their hands and with uplifted faces filled with expectancy they cry "We would see Jesus."

"And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him, for he was to pass that way." There are no difficulties sufficient to keep us from seeing Jesus. We may be small as was Zaccheus, if not in stature, in some other limitation, yet, if we have his enthusiastic earnestness and commendable independence. Is a prominent rich man so anxious to see him as to run and even to climb up into a tree? I would to God that you friends to Jacksonville were as anxious to see him as was this government official. Some of you have been very slow to move and I fear, if you do not do so soon, you will miss seeing him. Do not magnify the hindrance! They may seem unsurmountable but if you are sufficiently anxious He will help you to overcome and you will come out "more than a conqueror."

"And when Jesus came to the place, He looked up and saw him and said unto him, Zaccheus, make haste, and come down; for today I must abide at thy house." Jesus personal interest. He desires personally and the individual is never lost in the crowd. What a surprise it must have been when He stopped under the tree and called Zaccheus by name.

"And he made haste and came down and received him joyfully." How to come to Jesus: Make haste, come down and receive him joyfully. Some of you have climbed up into the sycamore tree of doubt, prejudice and against revivals. Criticism of churches and church members and like Zaccheus' curiosity but if you would really see him you must come down. Get nearer to him who said "If any man will do his will he shall know of the doctrine." See him on his way home with Jesus introducing his wife and the great joy of his wife as Jesus enters the home with the husband, the interest in the children and the invitations to the neighbors and then if you will permit me to modernize it down to the twentieth century I imagine his saying "Mary, Jesus is to have full sway in this home. If you will bring those books we bought from the Watch Tower Publishing company we will put them in the fire and I had some theatre tickets for the play the last of the week, we will burn these also, and that pack of cards in the upper bureau drawer, if you will set those plates we will put them all in the fire or Jesus Christ is to be the supreme guest at every meal. "and Zaccheus stood and said unto the Lord, behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor, and if I have taken anything from any man by false accusation, I restore him four-fold." Results of a genuine conversion are benevolence and restitution. What generosity, giving one-half of all he had to the poor. It is what we give we really save, and it is "more blessed to give than to receive."

"For the son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost" Jesus' mission. A verse to be written in letters of fine gold and studded with diamonds. If you seek him tonight, what then? If you reject him tonight, O, what then?

A Dangerous and Unworthy Policy.
Momentous questions are pending settlement by our city council which effect the lives and safety of the people of Jacksonville. We are now more apt to think of good street lights from the standpoint of pride than from the dangers which are incurred by permitting us to struggle along in darkness. Some morning we might awake to hear of a sad accident occurring on some prominent street as West State, where during the past few nights only one light has been in commission. This would serve to awaken some of our people and change their minds on the proposition to continue without lights.

It is not always the cheapest solution which is the best, but which will bring the desired results. The city commissioners are anxious to serve the interests of the people and they can do this best by getting an early settlement of our light question. Attempts to have this postponed from some selfish or prejudiced motive all serve to make more history for a city that at the present time has an antiquated street lighting system.

and like organizations could perfect and propose plans according to their liking with perhaps the advice of hired experts, but what have we accomplished after this is all done. It is up to the city council and the people to consider and to pass upon all these proposed plans with only the result of more delayed action. Plans enough are now being considered, any one of them, if agreed upon would mean quick relief.

Eyes on Monday Meeting.

Attention is directed to Monday's meeting of the council. It is not essential, and furthermore is contrary to the laws of human nature that all individuals agree, but surely some kind of a compromise can be effected so that Jacksonville will be given a chance to express itself, either for or against good lights.

Some people are so unwise to advocate the abandoning any attempt to get street lights at the present time. A large percentage of the men don't seem to care. This is the spirit that is holding us back today with reaction fighting faction. Let us get together and see it triumphantly bettered. It is hoped Monday meeting of the council will be harmonious and that it will be the first big real step for a progressive and well lighted city.

A Carload of Electric Signs.

The business men have showed their pluck and wide-awake spirit by ordering fourteen large electric signs up to the present writing. If they are willing to go down deep, and it must be deep, into their pockets for the long green to install these hundreds of individual lights, it shows that they would certainly be willing to back the city administration in getting the business district lighted with boulevard system of lights.

The Chamber of Commerce hopes to have as good a sign as the rest and in our gay attire even home folks won't scarcely recognize this old town of ours.

There is a Chance for You in the Big Horn Basin

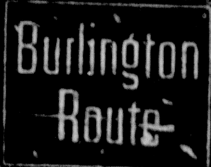

You can prove it to your own satisfaction by going with me on the next excursion to the Big Horn Basin, where you can inspect the opportunities for establishing a new business, the employment of idle capital or the renting of an improved farm, which you can do for a share of the crop. No cash rents are required, but it is possible for you to now secure a good farm for next year and move out in the Spring.

And You Don't Have to Wait for Rain

You simply turn the water on when your crops need it. A destructive hail or wind storm has never been known to visit the farming regions of the Basin Country.

AT MEREDOSIA HARBOR.

No Improvements to be Made the Coming Year.—Plan was to Deepen Channel of River There.

The Meredosia Budget has the following:

"A Washington dispatch says an adverse report on the proposed improvement of the Illinois river at Meredosia has been transmitted to congress by the engineer board for rivers and harbors. The channel of the river is near the shore opposite the town, and it was proposed to have its course changed so that vessels could land at Meredosia. Another proposed improvement was to dredge a cut 1800 feet long, with a depth of seven feet at low water, to permit all steamers to leave the main channel at Meredosia and make landing. The district engineer, Lieut. Col. Geo. A. Zinn, advised the board in his report that the water traffic from Meredosia aggregated but 500 tons of grain, general merchandise and live stock. The approved project for this stretch of the river calls for a channel seven feet deep and 200 feet wide at low water stages. Colonel Zinn declares that the existing condition is sufficient for thorough commerce on the Illinois river and the improvement desired at Meredosia, he says, should be made by private individuals or local authorities."

(ADVERTISEMENT) READ EVERY WORD.

After a careful investigation of the effect of no license for six years in this city, resulting not only in the loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars, in population and in school enrollment, but also in a condition far worse for the boys and girls and all of the people of the city; the Business Men's Protective Association, realizing the financial and moral condition of the city, has planned a program for the improvement of streets, lights, etc., and at its regular meeting adopted the following ordinance, which they will ask the city council to adopt.

ILLINOIS U. DECISIVELY DEFEATS UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI 24 TO 7

TIGERS START IN BRILLIANT STYLE AND SCORE THE FIRST TOUCHDOWN

Illini Is Slow In Striking Scoring Gait But Ties Score In Second Period and Wins Easily In Second Half—Purdue Swamps Northwestern 34 to 0—Michigan Shows Only Flashes of Predicted Form—Results of Other Games.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 11.—Illinois, complex for the Northwestern team to solve.

Army an Easy Winner.
West Point, Oct. 11.—The Army defeated Rutgers easily today by the score of 29 to 0. The visitors never got inside the Army's 25-yard line and their mass play attack was torn to pieces by the army's splendid defense.

Navy Wins Rough Game.
Annapolis, Md., Oct. 11.—In a game marked by rough playing, for which three men were banished to the side lines at different times and many penalties were imposed, Navy defeated Georgetown university here today, 23 to 0.

Pennsylvania Gets Revenge.
Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—The University of Pennsylvania got revenge today for the 6 to 3 defeat administered by Swarthmore last year, when the red and blue trounced the garnet eleven on the Franklin field this afternoon by a score of 20 to 0.

Harvard Takes Hard Game.
Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 11.—Harvard's football team was played to a standstill for three periods today by an eleven from Williams, but in the closing moments of the play, the Crimson scoring machine got into action and made three touchdowns. The final score was: Harvard, 23; Williams, 3.

Bucknell Scores on Princeton.
Princeton, N. J., Oct. 11.—Using forward passes which in most cases were unsuccessful, but in one instance, proved good for forty yards and a touchdown, Bucknell crossed the Princeton goal line this afternoon for the first time this season. Topham failed to kick the goal. The final score was Princeton, 26; Bucknell, 6.

Carlisle Defeats Cornell.
Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Carlisle struck a tartar in Cornell today and barely won by a score of 7 to 0. Three times Cornell had the ball on the Indians five yard line, but lacked the necessary punch to carry it over.

Missouri opened up its play more in the final period but to no avail. The visitors spent much time in fruitless efforts to puncture the Illini line and run the ends. Wilson and Armstrong camped on the trail of the Tiger backs, who were often downed in their tracks.

Shepherd and Wilson were Tiger stars. Shepherd's punting was generally excellent. True to promise, Illinois revealed many open plays. Missouri's forward passes were generally broken up. The line-up: (Armstrong, Derby, Le Dunkle, Woody, Pruitt, ... it ... Kemper, Lanche, Davy, ... lg ... Gallagher, Watson, ... c ... Wilson, Stebens, Fullerton, rg ... Clay, Chapman, ... rt ... Spellman, Wilson, Graves, ... re ... Herdon, Pogue, Silkman, ... qb ... McWilliams, Rue, Randall, ... lbh ... Shepherd, Schobinger, Wagner rhb ... Moore, Lake, Rowe, ... fb Groves, Dunkle, Summary—Touchdowns, Kemper, Pogue (3); goals from touchdowns, McWilliams; goals from field, Rowe.

Iowa Trounces Cornell.
Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 11.—Cornell gave way before Iowa today, the Hawkeyes running up 76 points to Cornell's nothing. Cornell could not get within striking distance, despite several well executed forward passes. Iowa used 22 men during the game. Towards the close Coach Hawley sent several regulars back into scrimmage and rapid scoring resulted.

The game was featured by the dodging and running of the Iowa backs. Iowa played old fashioned football throughout except for occasional attempts at forward passes, generally resulting disastrously.

Captain McGinnis crossed Cornell's goal line three times. Half-backs Dick and Penningroth and their substitutes, Donnelly and Baird, featured with forty yard runs for touchdowns. Iowa was penalized frequently.

Michigan in Poor Form.
Ferry Field, Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 11.—Showing only flashes of predicted form, Michigan was held to a 14 to 0 football score by the light, game, Mount Union eleven today. All of Michigan's scoring came in the second quarter when long gains by Catlett, Benton and Hughtitt penetrated his stubborn defense of the visitors. Hughtitt and Benton made the touchdowns and Peterson goaled twice.

Give Wisconsin Hard Scrap.
Camp Randall, Madison, Wis., Oct. 11.—The University of Wisconsin football team, champions of the west, met a tartar in the Marquette university today, emerging with a 13 to 0 victory. From the start the Catholics showed distinct class and although seldom within easy reach of Wisconsin goal they put the Cardinals in more than one tight place by their superior defensive playing. Coach Juneau of Wisconsin was forced to make several substitutions to effect a winning combination.

Purdue Overwhelms Northwestern.
LaFayette, Ind., Oct. 11.—Purdue overwhelmed Northwestern on Stuart field this afternoon, winning a one-sided game by a score of 34 to 0. It was Purdue's game from the outset, the visitors being unable to stop Purdue's plunging half backs. A varied attack was presented and the puzzling formations were too

FALLING HAIR MEANS DANDRUFF IS ACTIVE

Save Your Hair! Get a 25 cent Bottle of Danderine Right Now—Also Stops Itching Scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—anytime—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hairs—new hair—growing all over the scalp. LITON MURDER TRIAL

WILL BEGIN NEXT TUESDAY

Wife of Rear Admiral Must Answer For His Death—Prominence of Accused Woman and Her Late Husband Give Unusual Interest to the Trial.

Boston Oct. 11.—The case of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, charged with the murder of her husband Rear Admiral Joseph Giles Eaton, at Annapolis, their summer home, is to come up for trial next Tuesday at a special session of the superior court, at which Chief Justice Alden will preside. The trial will be held at Plymouth, Mass., where Mrs. Eaton has been in jail ever since her indictment and arrest, in March last. Both sides are said to be ready for trial, which is certain to attract a great deal of attention. A large number of witnesses will be called and it is quite probable that the trial will last for several weeks.

Rear Admiral Eaton had been on the retired list for many years and had lived a quiet life at Annapolis, in the town of Norwell, raising chickens, for more than five years preceding his death on March 8, of this year. Formerly he lived in Washington, D. C., where he occupied a respected position in navy and official society, to which his high rank and position entitled him. His sudden death caused considerable surprise among his numerous friends, who had received no intimation that the admiral had been in poor health. If his friends were surprised by the news of his death, they were even more surprised and greatly shocked when they learned that two days after his death the admiral's body was quietly buried at Annapolis, his former home, and that there were no religious or military services at the grave. Only the undertaker, the widow and one of her daughters from a former marriage and several newspaper reporters were present at the funeral. The reporters gave graphic descriptions of the funeral and pointed to the remarkable absence of every military and naval honor to which the deceased would have been entitled by reason of his high rank and brilliant record.

There was so much mystery in the death of the admiral and in the manner in which his body was buried that it excited comment and suspicion. An investigation was begun which brought to light such peculiar facts that an autopsy was ordered and the stomach and intestines of the admiral were turned over for chemical analysis to Medical Examiner Osgood. Although no full report of the result of this examination was ever given out for publication, Professor Whitney of Harvard medical school, who made the analysis, informed the authorities that Rear Admiral Eaton had died from poison and on the strength of this information an inquest was begun, which continued for some time and led to the indictment and arrest of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, the widow of the admiral, on the charge of having poisoned her husband.

The testimony given at the inquest was of a rather startling and sensational character and brought to light the skeleton in the Eaton closet. It was brought to light that at the time when Admiral Eaton's first wife was in her last illness, Mrs. Ainsworth, an intimate friend of hers, was visiting her. Shortly before her death Mrs. Eaton, feeling her end near, asked Mrs. Ainsworth to look after the admiral after her death. Admiral Eaton was under the impression that Mrs. Ainsworth was a widow at the time and did not learn until after he had married her in accordance with the wish of his deceased wife, that she had a husband living and had obtained a divorce from him only a few days before her second marriage. Mrs. Ainsworth had two daughters from her first marriage, Mrs. June Ainsworth Keyes and Dorothy Ainsworth. After Mrs. Ainsworth's marriage to Admiral Eaton there was a great deal of friction between the admiral and his wife's elder daughter, who seems to have been the principal cause of trouble in the household. Mr. and Mrs. Eaton adopted a little boy, but the child died and at that time Mrs. Eaton's daughter caused a sensation by accusing the admiral of having poisoned the child. This charge was found to be untrue, however.

After the death of Rear Admiral Eaton Mrs. June Ainsworth Keyes made bitter attacks upon the character of the admiral, repeated the charge that he had poisoned his adopted child, and tried to create the impression that her step-father had been a victim of a poisoning mania and had made life a burden to her and her mother. Her attacks did not have the desired effect, however, and Mrs. Eaton was indicted and committed to the jail at Plymouth pending her trial. Although the prosecution has been extremely active in the case scarcely anything definite is known concerning the proofs which will be offered for the guilt of the prisoner. It is not even known whether the authorities have ever succeeded in locating the source from which she is supposed to have obtained the poison. It is believed that no attempt will be made to use the insanity plea in the case of Mrs. Eaton.

He was in charge of the improvement of the Yellowstone National Park for some years and later supervised construction work on the Mississippi and the great lakes. For the past seven years he has been in charge of the southeastern engineering district, with headquarters at Savannah.

Prof. Isabel S. Smith, who is on leave of absence, has begun her graduate work in botany at the University of Chicago.

Two additional students registered in the college department a few days ago. They came from a sister institution. One registered as a junior and the other as a sophomore.

Conservatory Notes.

Mrs. Genevieve Clark Wilson's song recital will take place next Tuesday evening, October 14th, in Northminster church at 8:15. The program will be made up of German, French and English songs, the last chiefly by American composers, and will be introduced by a suite for violin and piano by Cyril Scott, played by Messrs. Kritch and Munger. The public are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. Munger is spending Sunday and Monday in Chicago. Mr. Kritch will take his place in conducting the chorus on Monday evening.

At the reception given for the faculty and trustees at President Rammelkamp's on Friday evening Mrs. Wilson sang a group of English songs, accompanied by Mr. Munger. President and Mrs. C. H. Rammelkamp of Illinois college entertained the trustees and members of the faculty and wives at their home on Lockwood Place Friday evening. The house was prettily decorated in autumn foliage and garden flowers and the hours were spent in a most delightful manner. Much pleasure was added to the evening through the singing of Mrs. Genevieve Clark Wilson, the new voice instructor of the Conservatory of Music. Nice refreshments were served, a number of young ladies of the college assisting Mrs. Rammelkamp in the serving.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES.

During the past week a number of picnics have been held by the various classes and organizations. The three upper classes are spending the week end at Lake Matanzas. They expect to return Monday night.

There have been a great many visitors at the college the past week. Most of them have been attending the state fair and while so near the college have taken advantage of the opportunities to visit.

The athletic association has received a great deal of supplies needed for the Archery club. Miss Robinson, the newly appointed physical director, was at the college Wednesday and Thursday. During this time she met a number of the students, and has outlined a strong course of work for the year. She takes up her duties actively Wednesday, the 15th.

The Lambda Ipha Mu entertained the new students at the colonial Inn Saturday night. A delightful time was enjoyed by all present.

Mr. Setward of the Otis Elevator company was at the college Tuesday and with the assistance of Mr. L. E. Wackerle installed a new outfit of cables on the elevator.

Mrs. T. H. Pratt of Chapin has given the library a number of magazines.

College of Music Notes.

Mr. William Preston Phillips, who during the past year has been studying in Paris under the direction of Oscar Seagle, a well known baritone, was a visitor at the College of Music last Monday. Mr. Phillips has taught for two years as one of the musical faculty. His work during that time was most successfully done. His voice has gained much in tonal quality from past year study and his interpretations have broadened remarkably.

A student recital was given at the College of Music Thursday afternoon, October 9th. These informal recitals have always been one of the most interesting features of the

The class in history of music has been studying the music systems of the Chinese and American Indians for the past week. Miss Beebe has made the work extremely interesting by having numerous musical illustrations performed.

The class in Solfege, one of the complimentary courses offered to students of the College of Music, is under the direction of Miss Beebe. From the interest shown, this promises to be one of the most successful classes in the school.

The class in form and analysis, under the social Director Donald Swarthout, was organized last week and is now doing active work. It promises to be a splendid addition to the already strong course of theoretical studies offered by the College of Music.

The music department has recently received a substantial appropriation which will be used to buy musical reference books increase the library of ensemble music, and also to provide a case to accommodate the music used by the ensemble classes. Four classes in ensemble playing have already been organized and are under the personal direction of Director and Associate Director Swarthout.

See the Styles Your Great Grandmother Wore

A ten thousand dollar moving picture film three thousand feet in length portraying by motion photography the styles of the century in contrast with those of today will be shown to our friends and customers.

The title of the film is "Mrs. Carter Worthington's Dilemma."

It portrays in an interesting and fascinating way the difficulties that our women friends encounter in their efforts to procure costumes, gowns and tailored suits that meet the approval of those who know style, fit and tailoring.

Mrs. Worthington has an annoying experience in search for a new costume in which to attend the Annual Costume Pageant of the Delaware Society and her troubles are solved by her bosom friend, Mrs. Lila Laskerfield, who has discovered the merits of Printzess.

During the costume pageant we will introduce on film the styles of the last century, beginning with the girl of 1800 and proceeding by ten-year periods up to the present day.

The third reel will portray the visit of Mrs. Lila Laskerfield to the Home of Printzess and just what she saw while watching the making of a Printzess Garment.

On the last reel we show a parade of living models, wearing the styles of the season—the very garments that you will see in our department.

Come, be our guest. Admission is by ticket only and no children will be admitted unless accompanied by their parents or guardian.

TICKETS ARE FREE

And can be obtained only in our Garment Department. Ticket distribution has now commenced and will continue until the seating capacity of the theater is exhausted. Make this a gala occasion. Jacksonville Railway & Light Co.LETTER FROM LONDON.

By Associated Press.

London.—Evidence frequently crops up that the confederate bills that came to England during and after the civil war are far from exhausted, but it is seldom that anyone is asked to cash $5.00 worth of them.

This occurred a few days ago to an official of the American embassy. Two members of a family, the head of which died recently, called to ask whether the embassy would not give them English money for ten five hundred dollar confederate bills, which had been found among the effects of the deceased and which the family thought were of the value indicated on their face. Great was the disappointment when the official pointed out that the bills were of no value except as a curiosity.

Petty swindlers often attempt to pass counterfeit bills of small denomination on unsuspecting tradespeople, and the police of London have frequently to deal with them. It is very seldom, however, that this old money turns up in such large amounts as $5,000 at a time.

Thanks to the present industrial prosperity and old age pensions, pauperism is at a lower ebb in Great Britain today than it has been for some years past. Early this year the total number of paupers in England and Wales was under 800,000, as compared with 950,000 four years ago. The number of paupers per thousand of the population, which was 27 four years ago, is now less than 22.

J. Herbert Lewis, parliamentary secretary to the local government board, who gave these figures in his presidential address to the poor law conference, said there were many influences which had brought about the reduction, but he gave first place to old age pensions, which had reduced old age pauperism among the outdoor poor to a very small figure.

One of the great aims at present was that children should be removed from the poor houses. Already something has been done in this direction and in England and Wales for every two children in these institutions there were about five children receiving relief from the municipality while boarded in families.

Middlesex hospital reports "remarkable improvement" in several cases of cancer treated by radium. One of the surgical staff, describing the results obtained, said: "We do not maintain that we have cured these cases by radium. What we have done is to cause growths proved microscopically to be cancerous to disappear in a truly astounding way under the radium rays."

The records of three cases are given. In the first a man with a large cancer blocking up the back of the nose and throat had lost all sense of smell; could not breathe through the nose, and was deaf in the right ear. A platinum tube containing 82 milligrams of radium was embedded in the tumor and left in position for twelve hours. Five days later the growth had shrunk perceptibly, and the sense of smell and ability to breathe through the nose were regained. After three weeks' treatment no trace of the growth could be found, the man regained his hearing and he was discharged apparently cured.

Another patient, a woman suffering from a large abdominal cancer, is still under treatment, but has also improved wonderfully. In this case the platinum tube containing 144 milligrams of radium was embedded in the tumor and left for 24 hours. In twelve days the woman had gained 23 pounds and the cancer had shrunk to half its former size.

The third patient, a man suffering from cancer on the back of the tongue, was similarly treated and three weeks later no signs of the growth could be observed and the man was discharged apparently cured except for the presence of two or three secondarily involved glands about the collar bone.

A great drawback to the work is the lack of radium, of which the hospital has but 144 milligrams.

Many surgeons in London treat these reports from Middlesex with polite scepticism. They cite cases where cancers have disappeared by themselves and say radium should be used only as a last resort, since it almost always fails to do any permanent good.

Slow to take up the aeroplane and airships as a weapon of defense and offense, the British admiralty is now making up for lost time. In addition to buying, building and experimenting with every kind of air craft it is today constructing a network of naval and military air stations around the coast.

As in all matters of national defense the northeast coast, where Germany would be expected to strike in case of war, is receiving first attention and already the east coast of Scotland, whence the approach of a hostile fleet from across the North Sea could best be observed, is fully equipped. A station has just been completed at Dundee, which helps to bridge the space between the twin station on the Forth and that at Fort George on the Moray Firth. Other stations have been completed or are in course of construction at Stonehaven, Montrose and Scapa Flow, and these will be linked by one or two more in between them.

At the present time three British aeroplane factories are turning out machines for the admiralty, while material for machines put together at the stations is purchased from French firms. Those in close touch with the work say marvelous progress is being made and that England will very soon have a formidable aerial fleet.

After an examination by X-rays and otherwise of the hearts of 250 athletes and 300 students Dr. Bender of Budapest would discard the term "sport heart" as used on the continent for cardiac dilation in athletes.

His examinations were confined chiefly to defining the outlines of the heart. He found that of those persons who have been taking part in athletic sports and active bodily exercise for a year or two the majority manifested some dilation of the heart, which, however, did not at all interfere with their health. He was inclined to regard such dilation as a semi-physiological condition with those who are habituated to athletic sports and exercise. His conclusion is that such exercises, even when decidedly energetic, are not injurious because the vascular system and the cardiac action gradually adapt themselves to the slight dilation.

Neither does arterio-sclerosis occur in a greater percentage in athletes than among other persons. Of course the conclusions apply to normal and healthy subjects and not to those who are addicted to any excesses or overindulgence in alcohol or tobacco.

AMERICAN PRISON CONGRESS.

Indianapolis, Oct. 11.—The prison riots and strikes which have occurred in New York, Michigan and other states the past year will form a leading topic of discussion at the annual convention of the American Prison association about to assemble in this city. Friends of the prison reform movement will endeavor to prove in papers and addresses before the convention that the riots and insubordination were not due to too much leniency within the prison.

The convention opened its session tonight with addresses of welcome by Governor Ralston and former Vice President Fairbanks, followed by the annual address of the association president, James A. Leonard of Mansfield, Ohio. Among the persons of prominence who are scheduled to speak at the mass meeting tomorrow and the sessions of the coming week are Mrs. Maude Ballington Booth, Miss Julia Lathrop, Prof. Charles R. Henderson of the University of Chicago, Dr. J. T. Gilmour of Toronto, and Governors Foss of Massachusetts, Cox of Ohio, Eberhart of Minnesota, Blease of South Carolina and McCrory of Kentucky.

The American Prison association was founded in Cincinnati in 1870, and at first included only those connected with the ordinary penal institutions of the United States. The organization has gradually grown to include those interested in almost every kind of reform or social work, and in the last few years has extended to Canada, Mexico and Cuba.

CAPT. KIRBY MET AGAIN WITH OLD COMRADES IN ARMS

Attended Reunion of Sixth Missouri Cavalry at Springfield—Forty One Members of Regiment Met to Talk Over the War.

Capt. W. A. Kirby has returned from Springfield, Mo., where he went to attend the reunion of the 6th Missouri cavalry and enjoyed the occasion to the utmost. Capt. Kirby was first in the famous First Missouri cavalry in the well known company commanded by Barbour Lewis, formerly of this city. A company from the vicinity was raised for that regiment and included Capt. John E. Wright, Cyrus W. Mathews, George W. VanZandt, John W. Melton, George W. Moore, W. H. Jordan and others whose names do not now occur to the writer. Of this company Capt. Kirby was orderly sergeant and later was captain of Company A. of the 6th Missouri cavalry, a regiment raised largely in Springfield, Missouri and vicinity. The line officers of this company resigned and command of the company fell to Capt. Kirby as captain of Co. A.

Every year the regiment has held a reunion in Springfield, Mo., and only once before this year has Captain Kirby been able to attend. While in Springfield he was the guest of Alex. McDonald, now a grocer of Springfield and the youngest member of the regiment as he was but sixteen years old when he enlisted. At the reunion forty-one members of the regiment were present and one man rose early and drove sixteen miles to catch a train to get him there. Some of the veterans hadn't met since the war and others had been separated a long time and Captain Kirby says it was affecting to see the greetings between grey haired men who were little more than beardless youths when first they met. Some other veterans were present and all had a fine time.

A COMMUNICATION.

Jacksonville Daily Journal, To the Editor:

In the issue of Sunday, the 5th inst., you referred to the ordinance which the Jacksonville Business Men's Protective association has prepared for the regulation of saloons, and quoted from a paragraph which appears upon the stationery and membership card of the association, which, while it contains a general statement of the effect of the removal in communities like Jacksonville, where a majority of the people use beer, wines or liquor to some extent; yet your editorial is misleading, because it does not contain one line of the new ordinance. It is not true that most of the points in the ordinance are included in the quotations used as you stated, as is evident from the ordinance made public in this issue.

Also your quotations from "Number of leaders" to the effect that the association "hope that this majority vote (of the women) will be set at naught by the supreme court decision"; is not the position of this association. On the contrary, we believe the fight is to be won by showing the deplorable condition of the city without regulation, both morally and financially.

Your paragraph which refers to advocating license "from a moral standpoint," is not well taken. This association does not come before the people of this city to claim that the saloon is of "divine origin," few things are of such origin, not excepting the church in its present form, but as to whether or any good thing ever came from a saloon is a matter of opinion. It is true that in the past they have been conducted without much regard for the morals or the health of the city; it is true that they have made themselves obnoxious by their disregard of law; it is true that in the past they have entered too largely into the politics of the country; but it is a true fact that they have been allowed to furnish a social center for the poor man. It has been the one place where the outcast, the prosperous middle class, the hungry and the well fed have freely mingled. It has fed and sheltered when the church, which could and should have done this, has been wrapped in the mantle of success and contentment. It has abused its opportunity in many cases and it is largely because of this abuse that the reaction of public sentiment has either refused to tolerate it, or has surrounded it with strict regulations for the public good. But it is not an unmixt evil. It is not much different from many other public institutions, and it will only remain whatever it is well conducted as the best possible way at present of handling the liquor question where a large percentage of the people use intoxicating beverages.

Referring to your opening paragraph, we are pleased to say that you have expressed one of the vital question in this campaign; "it is the intention of the association to come before the people and emphasize continually that they are for (licensed) saloons, because of the belief that well regulated, law abiding saloons are a less menace to public morals than are boot-leggers and blind tigers; but we would call your attention to what is involved in such a statement. The boot-legger is not on the side of the Business Men's association, but with the church members, who from sincere conviction or fear of criticism vote dry. Jacksonville Business Men's Protective Association.

Gets Right Twist On Rheumatism

Makes Short Work of Cleaning Out Your Entire System—Aches and Pains Go Fast.

In S. S. S. You Get a Twist on Rheumatism That Settles It.

Many a rheumatic sufferer has been to the drug store for a bottle of S. S. S. and been handed something claimed to be "just as good." Truly, to ask for bread and be given a stone is still in practice. If you are troubled with rheumatism in any form be sure to use S. S. S. and note its wonderful influence.

S. S. S. has the peculiar action of soaking through the intestines directly into the blood. In five minutes its influence is at work in every artery, vein and tiny capillary. Every membrane, every organ of the body, every emunctory becomes in effect a filter to strain the blood of impurities. The stimulating properties of S. S. S. compel the skin, liver, bowels, kidneys, bladder to all work to the one end of casting out every irritating, every pain-inflicting atom of poison; it dislodges by irrigation all accumulations in the joints, causes acid secretions to dissolve, renders their neutral and scatters those peculiar formations in the nerve centers that cause such mystifying and often baffling rheumatic pains.

And best of all this remarkable remedy is welcome to the weakest stomach. If you have dragged yourself until your stomach is nearly paralyzed, you will be astonished to find that S. S. S. gives no sensation but goes right to work. This is because it is a pure vegetable infusion, is taken naturally into your blood just as pure air is inhaled naturally into your lungs.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. today, and ask for S. S. S.

You may depend upon it that the store that sells you what you ask for is a good place to trade. Write to the Swift Specific Co., 294 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their Book on Rheumatism.

COMMISSIONER NEWMAN HAS NEW CITY BETTERMENT PLAN

If Council Does Not Look With Favor on Street Lighting by Local Utility Company Commissioner Will Suggest Expenditure of $100,000 For Light and Water—Proposes Board of Citizens to Supervise Improvements.

When the city council meets Monday morning Commissioner William Newman will present the result of his negotiations with Mr. Miser concerning the utility franchises and the city lighting matter. It is understood that Mr. Miser has expressed a willingness to concede all of the points to which Mr. Newman objected in Mr. Newman's acceptance of his plan. If Mr. Newman's associates in the city council do not approve of the plan to buy lights from the traction company in accordance with the Newman-Miser proposition then it is Mr. Newman's plan to suggest a bond issue of $100,000 to provide for the enlargement of the light plant to such an extent that commercial lighting can be done and also funds for some further development of the Widenham & Daub wells. Mr. Newman's idea too is to have a board of twelve business men appointed to superintend the expenditure of the $100,000 or to act as an advisory board for the council in this respect.

Light and Water Betterments.
Talking about this new plan Mr. Newman said last night: "I have not yet looked up all of the legal points which may be involved but I believe it would be a good thing for Jacksonville to spend $100,000 for light plant improvement and betterments at the Widenham & Daub wells. This sum would be large enough to so equip the light plant that the city could sell light and power to private consumers. It would provide also for machinery and equipment necessary for the further development of the Widenham & Daub wells, in which I have always had faith, as a part of our water system."

"The city could raise about $65,000 by a bond issue and after the light plant was improved it would be possible, I think to issue about $35,000 in utility certificates against the plant. I would favor having the bonds or certificates bear six per cent interest and made in denominations from fifty dollars up, on the theory that thus practically all of the entire sum would be sold in Jacksonville to home people."

Proposes Board of Trustees.
"In order to make the plan satisfactory in every way to the public generally and to the investors particularly I would favor having a board of twelve trustees appointed to advise with the council and share the responsibility of expending this fund. Six of these trustees could represent the six banks of the city and these six men could choose their associates. By giving this board responsibility with the council in the expenditure of the $100,000 the public would have every reason to expect the most judicious expenditure of their money possible and at the same time there would be no reflection upon the business ability of the city commissioners."

"This proposition and that relating to the utility franchises and the street lighting by the traction company I believe should be submitted to a vote of the people, allowing them to express their wishes and views. I think that either one of these plans will give to the people what is rightfully theirs in the matter of public service."

Modern Dutch Furniture

Limbert's Modern Dutch Arts and Crafts Furniture is built for the requirements of modern use. Comfort, utility and durability together with structural perfection and beauty of design are the prime motives. In its solidity and permanence its reflects Dutch sturdiness and thoroughness, in the beauty of its patterns and richness and color harmony of its leathers and finishes, it preserves the mastery of Dutch Art.

Construction

Every piece of Limbert furniture is made from solid white oak thoroughly dried, aged and seasoned. Carefully made mortise and pinned tenon joints, solid dowel construction, keyed braces and other sound devices lock its parts together. No structural limitations or subterfuges are tolerated. The front posts are tenoned through the arms and pinned, the posts projecting through the arms. Stretchers and back slats are joined in the same way, making all joints rigid and strong.

All runners on Limbert rockers are made from straight pieces of wood bent to the proper curve in powerful steam presses. Rockers thus bent will not break because they have no short cross grain as is found in rockers that are band sawed.

Hand work is vital in this furniture, for from hand work comes its individuality and charm. Yet we do not wish to convey the idea that it is made entirely by hand. Machinery is used only where it can be employed to improve the product.

Color and Finish

Limbert's Modern Dutch Arts and Crafts Furniture can be procured in any color or finish that can be produced on white oak. Very characteristic are the popular brown tones of the Genuine Fumed finish obtained by subjecting the wood to the action of ammonia fumes. This finish has a rich, nut brown or autumn-leaf color similar to that of wood colored by age. It possesses a soft translucent sheen which is inimitable and harmonizes with almost any color scheme.

Spanish Morocco Leather

The leather used on Limbert's Arts and Crafts is made from imported goat skins. It is soft and pliable as well as firm and strong. The natural grain surface lends itself to beautiful blendings of colors which are fast and it will withstand anything but misuse and is guaranteed for years of service.

Sanitary Spring Seat Cushion

Highly tempered springs are employed in the cushions of chairs, rockers and settees. For the seats these springs are double deck. The upper springs respond readily to a lightweight person and the lower springs are strong enough to support a person of the heaviest weight. These seat cushions contain three times as many springs as are usually found in the same size seats. These cushions are loose, light, clean and sanitary and as easily removed as a feather pillow.

Identification

Many makers have tried to imitate Limbert's Holland-Dutch Arts and Crafts Furniture, yet they have never succeeded in imparting to their product the character and artistic merit of furniture that has the Limbert trademark branded into the wood. This branded trade mark is a means of identification and a guarantee of excellence.
